

THE BAPTIST RECORD.

OLD SERIES VOL. XXXV.

JACKSON, MISSISSIPPI, NOV. 9, 1911.

NEW SERIES, VOL. XIII, NO. 45.

The New Mexico Situation.

The committees appointed by the Northern and Southern Baptist conventions to "confer concerning the organized activities of the Baptists represented in the two conventions," which met recently at Old Point Comfort, appointed a sub-committee of four to visit New Mexico. This sub-committee was instructed to ascertain the facts of the Baptist situation in New Mexico and to do whatever is possible to promote fraternal feelings among the Baptists of the state, pending some adjustment of denominational affairs.

This sub-committee, consisting of Pres. E. Y. Mullins, of Louisville, Ky.; A. J. Barton, D. D., of Waco, Texas; Walter Calley, D. D., of Boston; and J. S. Dickerson, Litt. D., of Chicago, met in Clovis and Roswell, New Mexico, on October 27, 28 and 29. There were present to confer with this sub-committee a number of brethren representing the two Baptist State conventions of New Mexico. Full statements of the causes which have led to the division in the denomination in New Mexico were made by officers of the two State conventions and by pastors and laymen affiliated with each. After a series of conferences, a unanimous agreement was reached by which both parties agreed to discontinue all agitation of the matters concerning which there has been lack of harmony pending the efforts of the committee.

The sub-committee feels that excellent progress has been made toward unification of the denomination in New Mexico. There is reason for hope that some plan, by which all Baptists in the State may heartily work together, may eventually be determined upon. The brethren in New Mexico from this time forth, it is believed, will begin to seek unity.

The sub-committee will report to the joint committee of eighteen at a meeting of the committee to be held at Hot Springs, Ark., Jan. 24th, 1912, and from that meeting it is hoped some practical method of adjustment of New Mexico Baptist affairs will develop.—J. S. Dickerson, Secretary; E. Y. Mullins, Chairman.

General Booth's Secret.

"When I was in London," said Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman, in a recent sermon, "I received word that if I was at the Salvation Army headquarters at 10 o'clock sharp, I might meet General Booth. I hurriedly made my way there, for he was to leave for the continent in a very few minutes.

"When I looked into his face and saw him brush back his hair from his brow, heard him speak of the trials and conflicts and the victories, I said: 'General Booth, tell me what has been the secret of your success all the way through?'

"He hesitated a second, and I saw tears come into his eyes and steal down his cheeks, and then he said: 'I will tell you the secret. God has had all there was of me. There have been men with greater brains than I, men with greater opportunities; but from the day I got the poor of London on my heart, and a vision of what Jesus Christ could do with the poor of London, I made up my mind that God would have all of William Booth there was. And if there is anything of power in the Salvation Army today, it is because God has all the adoration of my heart, all the power of my will, and all the influence of my life.'

"Then he looked at me a minute, and I soon learned another secret of his power. He said: 'When do you go?' I said: 'In five minutes.' He said, 'Pray;' and I dropped on my knees with General Booth by my side, and prayed a stammering and stuttering prayer. Then he talked with God about the outcast of London, the poor of New York, the lost of China, the great world lying in wickedness; and then he opened his eyes as if he were looking into the very face of Jesus, and with sobs he prayed God's blessings upon every mission worker, every evangelist, every minister, every Christian. With his eyes still overflowing with tears, he bade me good-bye, and started away, past eighty years of age, to preach on the Continent.

"And I learned from William Booth that the greatness of a man's power is the measure of his surrender. It is not a question of who you are or what you are, but of whether God controls you."—Exchange.

When the keen scrutiny of sceptics has found a place on this planet ten square miles where a decent man can live in decency, comfort and security, supporting and educating his children unspoiled and unpolluted, a place where age is revered, infancy respected, womanhood honored and human life held in due regard—when sceptics can find such a place, ten miles square, on this globe, where the gospel of Christ has not gone and cleared the way and laid the foundations and made decency and security possible, it will then be in order for the sceptical literati to move thither and ventilate their views.—James Russell Lowell.

The success of the Tierra del Fuego Mission is most wonderful, and shames me, as I always prophesied utter failure. It is a grand success. The lesson of the missionary is the enchanter's wand.—Charles Darwin.

Rev. W. T. Scott leaves the pastorate at Tulsa, Okla., after two years and four months' successful work. His future plans are not revealed.

There is hidden in the heart of every gift of God to us a meaning and sweetness which only reveal themselves when the gift is shared with others.—Henry E. Robins.

We give nothing to the missionary society. The organization is simply the reservoir that collects the thousand rivulets of missionary offerings to concentrate them in large streams of well directed power.—P. S. Moxom.

The way to secure a new Pentecost is to enlarge our gifts. Those of us who are in any degree partakers of the spirit of power must put God to the proof for a wider, a larger blessing. If we expect him to grant us for the sake of the church yet unconsecrated and the world yet unsaved, some new and surprising access of spiritual power, we must make to him some demonstration of our faith, daring in its heroism, splendid in its measure, uncalculating in its generous denial of self.—John Humpstone.

We want stories of heathen degradation, or else of swift success, to keep our interest up. We plead for quick returns from labor to encourage us, and are cast down if they are wanting. Givers must have personal reports and direct communication with missionaries on the field, or their interest may droop. They must know just where their money goes, and be sure that it is spent in work that they take an interest in. Donations must be made specific, not general, so as to gratify the preferences of donors. . . . The pressing need at present is that the childish period may pass, and that Christian people may address themselves to missions for their own sake, intelligently purposing to prosecute the work with full strength, with or without special encouragements, till it is finished.—W. N. Clarke.

All that is outward changes and passes; thy soul and God stand sure.—Ex.

The man who never makes mistakes, never makes anything.—Maltbie D. Babcock.

The Crystal Springs Meeting.

The services tonight, October 30th, closed a nineteen days' meeting with our church here. The Lord has been with us in power and blessing from the very first, and has given us eighty-eight new members; forty-one of these by baptism, and the other forty-seven by letter, statement, restoration, and under the watchcare.

Brother W. A. McComb, of the Home Board, came to us and we began the meeting on the 12th, and for fifteen days this humble, trustful, prayerful, faithful, lovable and capable man of God led us and fed us beside the still deep waters of God's grace and through the green pastures of His love and free salvation. We all loved McComb before, but we love him even more since this meeting. With his whole soul and in love he preaches the whole truth; with joy and faith he plants and waters and with confidence looks to God for the increase.

Our church and the other Christian people of the town and whole community have been joyously revived and blessed, and the hearts and homes of our people have been made to throb with new life and sing with new joy and comfort. "The Lord hath done great things for us, whereof we are glad." "Let us give thanks unto the Lord, for He is good."

When we began the meeting, we expected to continue through the 22nd, but we could not close then, for we had fifteen additions that day. The next day, Monday, the Lord gave us ten more, and Tuesday seven more, and Wednesday morning, one more, and then we felt that we must allow Brother McComb to have a few days' rest before his next meeting; so with love and prayers for continued blessings upon us, he took the train for Clinton on Wednesday afternoon. That night the pastor preached and six were received for baptism and one by letter, after which thirty-six happy converts followed their Lord in baptism. We had gracious services Thursday night and Friday night, but with no other additions. But yesterday, the Lord gave us five more, three of these for baptism, and tonight six more by letter, after which the ordinance of baptism was administered and five joyously obeyed their Lord in baptism.

This is the jubilee year of our church, and how gloriously the Lord has blessed us! I believe we love Him and His cause and His people and the lost of the earth with a new devotion and interest now. This meeting means a new day for this church and pastor. The sky is rosate; the morning is glorious; the King is calling and leading. May we all hear and follow Him all the way.

Pray for us and rejoice with us.
J. W. Dickens.

A Correction.

Dear Brother Bailey:
I noticed with regret my name signed to your leading editorial in the issue of Oct. 26. I never saw the article till I read it in print. I do not know who wrote it. I think it has some merits, however, am sure it has some demerits, and as a whole I do not endorse the article.

Yours for caution and accuracy,

The Danger Signal!

In using the above headline, we do so advisedly. We feel that it is very timely to have something to say on a subject, because of its very old and common place relations, we are disposed to brush aside as not worthy of serious consideration. There never was a greater mistake than to refuse to consider a question simply because there may not be much apparent interest taken in it. Ofttimes that is the very reason for keeping it before us. It is decidedly the reason that we should keep constantly before our people the importance of fighting the liquor traffic. But when we think of the far-reaching interest that is wrapped up in the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors upon which depends the support of so many people in the world of trade, we can then begin to understand something of its hydra-headed nature which requires the severest cauterization for its destruction.

The liquor interest are never idle. They understand well the value of constant agitation through the channels of literature. They know full well how hard it is to discount the veracity of the written page. They know full well how powerfully and insidiously the statements of the written page works into the very life's fiber of human intelligence and morality. Understanding these things, they have literally strewn our land with books produced by the most scholarly experts of all the world. In these books are set forth such claims as "It has been observed for centuries that alcohol augments the self-consciousness, the sense of power, and the courage. And that is absolutely true. Nothing can stimulate these fine faculties so well as the excitement of our inner personality, its becoming active. This must increase the self-consciousness; it is in great part identical with it, and the higher my self-consciousness is the greater naturally is my courage. The saying about "getting courage by drinking wine" is no illusion, but corresponds to well founded real conditions." Now, the man whose natural tendency is stimulated by insidious fallacies of this kind falls an easy prey to the doctrine that moderate drinking is a thing to be desired, and will soon bring himself to the belief that prohibition interferes with one's divine rights and so casts his vote for the open saloon.

Again, hear what this doctrinaire of the still has to say of the nutrient value of alcohol. "If it influences digestion at all, affects it favorably, is absorbed easily by the body, and used as a nutrient." When men read statements like the above and have not been taught that alcohol is a poison just as much so as any other decaying matter, it is easy to see how the anaemic dyspeptic would hope to find relief in the moderate use of alcoholic liquors.

But our would-be scientist does not stop with the direct drinking of alcohol, but says that "with every demi-tasse of strong coffee cognac or a good liquor is needed, and with every cup of tea a little rum." We cannot see how much more insidiously a proposition could be submitted to a credulous people than this knight of Baccus has done.

In these days when there seems to be a reaction in the sentiment of the people in general, it behooves all God-fearing men and women to hoist the danger flag and to see to it that not only we impress upon our children in the Sunday Schools the all importance of this subject, but that we urge our teachers in the day schools to keep constantly before the children under their charge the danger of touching this demon.

While we have prohibition in our own State, yet "No state has the power without permission of Congress, to prevent the shipment of liquors into its borders from another State, and its sale and delivery in unbroken packages." With this sort of thing staring us in the face, we must make our fight at the National Capitol. Let us begin the fight now by writing, every man and woman of us, to our representative in Congress, urging the passage of such laws as will protect dry territory from the invasion of the brewers. If God's people everywhere will do this, we believe that the time will soon come when, not only prohibition will reign, but we will be snugly ensconced behind impenetrable barriers against the oncoming of the enemy. Let us hope, watch, work and pray to this ideal end.

At the College.

Things are moving on in first-rate style in college circles now. A few students still come in and the college enrollment now is approaching the 400 mark. We think there is no doubt that this high number will be reached by the close of the present quarter. But it is not numbers that go to make up a good college half so much as the spirit which the college cherishes. This session the spirit of the college is admirable. This is shown in the mutual good feelings and sympathetic co-operation existing between the faculty and the student body. It is not to be understood that there are no obstreperous characters in school. That would be an ideal hardly to be hoped for, but the discordant element usually finds it convenient to withdraw at an early stage in the game.

One feature of the student body this session is especially noteworthy. The Senior Class are men of stalwart and reliable fellows. They lead in all Christian work. This means more than a casual glance would reveal. In their W. Y. C. A. work, they are arranging for a series of lectures along lines of purity of life and racial integrity. A few weeks ago Dr. R. W. Hall, one of the college physicians, delivered a lecture which is bearing much good fruit. Just here it is important to say that there was never a wiser thing done than when the board of trustees arranged to employ college physicians. Drs. Hall and Potter surely do teach our young men the value of pure lives and healthy bodies.

On last Friday night and Saturday morning, our own Jack Hardy, President of the Agricultural and Mechanical College, delivered what President Provine designated the most splendid addresses that he had ever heard from the college rostrum. In his first lecture, he made a plea for pure bodies, and in his second he plead for racial integrity. To look into the faces of these clean and manly looking fellows, one would hardly think it necessary to bother about having this sort of work. But those who have this in charge go on the principle that the best armed man is the one who has been the best warned. Besides, it will not only strengthen them, but it will give them information whereby they can teach these same great lessons to others, when they get out into real life.

A Request.

Again we appeal to the clerks of the Associations in Mississippi, whether affiliating with the Convention or not, to send to the Baptist Record, Jackson, Mississippi, copies of the minutes of your last meetings. Some have already sent; these need not duplicate. We are asking this not as a favor to ourselves, but for the denomination, that we may preserve the history we are making. Also wish a copy of the catalogue of every Baptist college in the State. Please send as soon as your minutes are printed.

Rev. W. A. McComb and gospel singer, I. E. Reynolds, are in a meeting at Clarks-ville, Tenn. Brother McComb hopes to attend the Convention.

We are glad to say that Sister R. H. Tandy's health is greatly improved since going to their new home in Carrollton, Ky. We extend to her and her good husband the warmest wishes.

The old state of Maine which has stood so long for statutory prohibition scored a great victory in the recent election against the combined whiskey interests of the nation. The election was close and the contest sharp, but the prohibitionists won.

We learn that the meeting in progress under the direction of Pastor Lipsey, assisted by Rev. W. Y. Quisenberry, has started well. We trust a great work shall be accomplished in our college town through the instrumentality of the Lord's servants.

The Laurel Argus seems to be responsible for the publication by several papers of the statement that the Mississippi Baptist and the Baptist Record had consolidated and that the paper would be published at Newton. We desire to say to all concerned that there is not one syllable of truth in the statement. We request that The Argus will advise us where it got its information about the fabrication. It must be attributable to ignorance, carelessness or malice, or all combined. Let The Argus speak!

In less than two weeks from this date the Baptist hosts of Mississippi will be gathering at Gulfport. The pastors' conference will meet at 10 a. m., on Tuesday, November 21st, on the same day at 7:30 p. m. the Women's meeting will convene and on the following day, November 22nd, at 10 a. m., the Baptist State Convention will meet. Give attention to what Dr. Grace says in this issue about arrival of trains and to what Secretary Lee says about railroad rates, and be sure to send your name to entertainment committee at once, facilitating the work of the committee as much as possible.

Anti-Saloon League at Work.

Rev. G. W. Eichelberger, State Superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of Mississippi, returned last week from a two weeks' trip up the State, organizing counties and precincts, and putting the law enforcement department of the League into operation. Two men are now engaged and actively at work in this department. He says there is "something doing" in certain quarters. The demand for law enforcement officers exceeds the supply, says the superintendent, but they will cover points as rapidly as possible.

He reports the pastors and people are rallying to the League organizations with commendable enthusiasm and it seems certain that these organizations will put an end to the blind tigers in the State, and thus take the "don't prohibit" argument out of the mouths of the enemy. He says the State authorities are glad the League is organizing. Good county officers cannot buy from a bootlegger, bad ones will not tell, but falsify their office.

Mr. Eichelberger says that all who can and will attend the National Conference of Prohibitionists in Washington in December will be appointed delegates from Mississippi if they will send their names to Anti-Saloon League, Box 30, Jackson, Miss. This Conference has been called by the National Anti-Saloon League Superintendent on a petition signed by 188 Supreme Judges, United States Senators, Members of Congress, Governors, ex-Governors, Bishops, Metropolitan Editors, Editors of church papers and others.

Mr. Eichelberger says the League's success in Mississippi so far is marvelous. A State Conference of prohibitionists will be called early in January.

Next Sunday, November 12, Dr. Gambrell, Dallas, Texas, the State Superintendent of the Texas Anti-Saloon League, Dr. G. W. Young, National Assistant Superintendent of the American Anti-Saloon League, Atlanta, and others, will assist Dr. Eichelberger in the Jackson pulpits, and at 3 p. m. that day a great rally will be held in the First Baptist church.

Effective Garbage Disposal.

Until lately American practice in the matter of garbage disposal has not been a matter for national pride. Two methods have been common—unsightly, malodorous piles of decomposing refuse have been—in some places still are!—allowed to accumulate in the vicinity of dwellings, or cheap, ineffectual "disposal plants" installed and operated by greedy or dishonest private contractors have been run for a few years and then allowed to lapse into well-earned oblivion. Neither procedure is creditable to a civilized state. There is really no need for a continuance of the offensive and wasteful methods that have been commonly employed in this country, says The Journal of the American Medical Association.

At least two methods of garbage disposal have proved effective in typical American cities—incineration and reduction. In the incinerating type all kinds of refuse, ashes, paper, rags, scraps of food, kitchen waste, etc., are fed together into crematories and burned. In European works of this type the heat generated by the combustion with a forced draft is a source of considerable revenue. One of the best examples of an incinerator plant in this country is the Milwaukee incinerator, which has been in full operation since May, 1910. At the old Milwaukee plant the cost of disposal reached as high as $1.37 per ton of garbage, while the cost at the new plant is less than 60 cents per ton. If the excess supply of steam generated at the plant is economically utilized the actual cost will be further greatly reduced. In garbage reduction works the sorted garbage is passed through various digestors, tanks and roller presses with a view to extracting the valuable portions, especially the fats and the nitrogenous matters. The Columbus (Ohio) plant, put in operation in July, 1910, is the first reduction plant in this country designed and constructed by a municipality. Successful financial operation of this plant appears in the fact that it netted $2,000 a month for the first six months.

The reasonable and business-like way of approaching the garbage disposal question is the employment of a reputable and competent engineer to examine local conditions and report on such topics as the most economical routes for collection and transportation, the establishment and location of one or more centers for disposal and the final method of treatment—incineration or reduction—best suited to the amount and nature of the refuse gathered. Small towns should beware of the man with patented machinery. In all cases the expert adviser is better than the quack.

State Missions.

Two more Sundays remain before the meeting of the Convention at Gulfport. These few days will tell the story of debt or victory, for our State Mission cause. It is ours to decide which it shall be. Brother, sister, what have you done about it? What are you going to do about it? I want to make this special appeal to the pastors and churches where already offerings have been made. Can you not add ten per cent, at least, more, if possible, to what you have done and thus help to save the cause, that ought to lie nearest our hearts, from debt. There are many churches that have not as yet been heard from and a number of these are among the strongest churches. May I not ask of these larger help in these closing days of the year than perhaps they were contemplating.

I plead with you in our Master's name that you pray earnestly and give earnestly. I ask the pastors to take this appeal to your churches with you on the next two Sundays and read it to the people, and pray with them and then ask for liberal help, naming such an amount as you think will be met.

A. V. Rowe.

W. T. Darling, a ministerial student in our college, preached in the morning and evening of Lord's Day, Nov. 5th, in Oma, at his regular appointment, and in the afternoon of the same day, with the assistance of Rev. J. C. Farrar, organized a church of fifteen members at Georgetown. He thinks there is promise of growth and great usefulness for the new church.

One of the features of the Correspondence School of Theology, at Madison, New Jersey, is its interdenominational advisory council.

The following are the representatives of the Baptist church on the council:

Rev. Emory W. Hunt, D. D., Granville, Ohio, President of Dennison University; Rev. C. A. Eaton, D. D., pastor Madison Ave. Baptist church, New York City; Rev. A. T. Fowler, D. D., Mt. Vernon, New York; Rev. W. C. Bitting, D. D., St. Louis, Mo.

Each missionary with his house and staff forms a nucleus about which gathers an influence far in excess of the numerical list of converts.—President Taft.

Sunday School Lesson

MISS M. M. LACKEY

(To Be Studied With Open Bible.)

THE STORY OF TWO KINGDOMS.

Lesson 7. Daniel 5. Nov. 12.

Belshazzar's Feast and Fate.

WORLD'S TEMPERANCE LESSON.

Golden Text: "God will bring every work into judgment, with every secret thing, whether it be good or whether it be evil."—Eccles. 12:14.

We study today with the whole Sunday School world, a temperance lesson. The lesson has been selected from the period of Bible history that we are now studying. It is another of the stories about Daniel whose faithfulness and courage inspired his fellow captives to heroic acts of self-sacrifice and devotion.

This lesson incident took place in Babylon. Nabonidus was king, and was the last of the Babylonian kings, but his son, Belshazzar, was commander of the army, and perhaps the actual ruler of the kingdom; hence this son was regarded in later ages, as in our lesson, as king of Babylon. The time was when Cyrus the Great conquered Babylon. While the Persian army was at the very gates of the city the king, Belshazzar, held a great feast. Read the entire fifth chapter and note who were his invited guests and note also how the vessels of gold and silver that had been taken from the temple in Jerusalem were brought in and used at the drunken revelry.

Tell the story of today's lesson.

How were Belshazzar and Nebuchadnezzar related? (Grandfather and son.)

Who was the father of Belshazzar? (See note above.)

Who were invited to the feast?

Where was Cyrus at this time? (Just outside the city walls.)

What did Belshazzar do with the gold and silver vessels from the temple?

What was there wrong in this?

How did the writing on the wall affect the king?

Had Belshazzar ever been warned as to the God of the Jews?

Whose righteous example had been before the court for many years?

Who caused Daniel to be sent for when the handwriting appeared?

Of whose life did Daniel first tell Belshazzar?

Why?

What had God done for Nebuchadnezzar? What happened to him?

What was the cause of his fall? (Verse 20, chapter 4:28-32.)

What was the purpose of his affliction? What was the result?

How had Belshazzar failed to profit by his warning? (Verses 22 and 23.)

Name four sins that he had committed? (23.)

Why did the sentence of judgment come upon him?

Give the simple meaning of the writing.

How did Daniel explain them?

Was his explanation miraculously done?

What great reward did the king offer for the reading of the writing?

Why did Daniel say "Thy gifts be to thyself?"

What honor did he confer upon Daniel?

What became of Belshazzar that night?

SEEK FURTHER ANSWERS.

How does God weigh men now?

In what are you found wanting?

"Are you cigaretting your brain?"

Are you "alcoholing your stomach?"

Are you "starving your soul?"

What forms of sin easily accompany drunkenness?

Has the world suffered more from man's intemperance in his desire for power or from his intemperance in his thirst for drink?

What great lesson for our time and age do we find in the last part of verse 21?

Can you mention some modern illustrations of this truth?

Why is pride considered such a great sin in verses 20-23?

Just where does the wrong lie?

Is pride ever right?

What warnings does God give men in this day?

How do we fail to glorify Him?

How do the standards of the world compare with God's? (Luke 16:15.)

Does not the modern tendency towards luxurious living encourage the growth of irreverence?

Does absorption in material things lessen our sense of God's presence?

Give three reasons why this passage is well adapted for a Temperance lesson.

What is the great lesson of this narrative?

Much in Little.

In the Cathedral of Lubeck, Germany, is the following inscription:

"Thus speaketh Christ, our Lord to us:

Ye call me Master and obey me not;

Ye call me Light and seek me not;

Ye call me Way and walk me not;

Ye call me Life and desire me not;

Ye call me Wise and follow me not;

Ye call me Fair and love me not;

Ye call me Rich and ask me not;

Ye call me Eternal and seek me not;

Ye call me Gracious and trust me not;

Ye call me Noble and serve me not;

Ye call me Mighty and honor me not;

Ye call me Just and fear me not;

If I condemn you, blame me not."

The more religion we export the more we have at home; love grows by exercising.

Why Roman Catholics as a Rule are Not Progressive.

The Roman Catholic countries are backward countries. This is common knowledge.

Why is it so?

It is because such of the backward people of this earth as have come under the sway of the Roman Catholic Church have not been able to throw off the rule of that church. The protestant people have done so.

The chief features of the character which led to protestantism are an independent spirit and a strong mentality. All self-governing countries are protestant; whereas the people who have not sufficient independence and mentality to develop self-government are mostly ruled by the Roman Catholic hierarchy. Spain is an example.

Until a people reach the stage where they are sufficiently developed to cast off the rule of the Roman Catholic church that church exerts its great power to keep them in ignorance and in submission to it. Herewith is statement on this point by the noted ex-priest Father Chiniquy:

"But when the protestant nations are marching with such grand strides to the conquest of the world, why is it that the Roman Catholic nations not only remain stationary, but give evidence of a decadence which is day after day, more and more appalling and remediless? Go to their schools and give a moment of attention to the principles which are sown in the young intelligencies of their unfortunate slaves, and you will have the key to that sad mystery.

"What is not only the first, but the daily school lesson taught to the Roman Catholic? Is it not that one of the greatest crimes which a man can commit is to follow his 'private judgment,' which means that he has eyes, but must not see; ears, but must not hear; and intelligence, but he must not make use of it in research for truth without danger of being eternally damned."

"You should not hate Roman Catholics. No! But you should watchfully guard the precious treasures of freedom. You should not let them fall into the hands of those who are sworn to destroy all liberty."

In this connection read the public declaration of October 1st, 1911, by the head of the Roman Catholic Church in United States, Cardinal Gibbons:

"The election of senators by the vote of the people involves the destruction of a strong bulwark against dangerous popular encroachments."

And—

"To give to the masses the right of annulling the acts of the legislature, the establishment of majority rule as to legislative policies is to substitute mob law for established law."

Now read the following declaration to the public by Archbishop Farley, of New York City, on October 7, 1911:

"Where the liberties of the people are committed to a Catholic their liberties are safer than when committed to any other individual."

Proof is the cardinal's attitude, and that of Phillip II, of Spain, and other Catholic rulers.

From the foregoing it is clear why the progressive countries are protestant and are prolific of Anti-Catholic secret societies; and why the Roman Catholic church is not only non-progressive but positively reactionary.

This sheds a flood of light, too, upon the question of Public Schools versus Parochial Schools.

In this connection we quote the following from an editorial in Harper's Weekly, March 25, 1911:

"Then why this reported scarcity of Catholics in the new congress? Why should Archbishop Ireland complain as he did the other day, that there are not enough Catholics in high office.

"We believe it is because the Catholic church, more than any other church, aspires to shape the minds of its sons, and succeeds considerably; and that minds so shaped do not appeal to the American voter as much as minds that have developed under a different system of education. The first-class Catholic man measured up against some first-class non-Catholic man is apt to impress the voter as not so free a man as the other man. The impression made is very subtle and it may be dissipated. The Catholic may win and keep the voter's vote and his entire confidence, as Patrick Collins did in New York and elsewhere. But when he does that he does it as a man, not as a Catholic.

"The voter is the judge of the sort of mind he wants to represent him. He responds to the mind that appeals to him. If the minds that Roman Catholic education offers him do not appeal to him as strongly as some other minds, what is there to do about it?"

Marshfield, Mo.

October 26th, 1911.

I wish to state that I have had the privilege of assisting Pastor S. P. Rogers in meetings just closed at Osyka and Bogue Chitto, Miss. Brother Rogers came to Mississippi from the State of Washington a few months ago, and took up work in the above named fields.

He is not a stranger in Mississippi, nor among Southern Baptists, but for a dozen years he did heroic and Christlike work in the West. He is now back among our people of the grand old South.

I found Brother Rogers to be a splendid pastor, well educated and full of good common sense.

They tell me that he is really a strong pulpit man. I delighted to labor with him. He has two magnificent churches. Among the membership are many as splendid people as I have ever seen.

The Lord gave fifty-five additions, thirty-five of them by experience and baptism in the two meetings.

Brother Rogers has in his wife a charming helper in the work of the Lord.

May the Lord greatly bless our brother, his dear family, and his churches.

H. F. Hunt,
Home Board Evangelist.

The State Baptist Association.

(Special to Baptist Record)

Gulfport, Nov. 2.—The State Baptist Association was very fortunate in its selection when Gulfport was named as the meeting place and November 22nd to 24th selected as the date, as autumn on the Mississippi coast is one of the most delightful seasons.

Few cities in the State can offer equal attractions in the way of an outing, or equal hotel facilities, and although it is probable that this convention will be the largest in the history of this important organization and the number of delegates who will attend will perhaps reach the 600 mark, Gulfport is amply equipped to handle them easily and satisfactorily.

Reservations are now being made at the Great Southern Hotel, and many prominent members of the clergy and laity from other states and even from as far away as Toronto, Canada, have signified that they will be present.

There is a probability of a movement being launched for the establishing of a Baptist College for girls. Mr. Samuel Livingston, of Jackson, having offered to donate a beautiful site for such an institution. There are now two colleges for girls in Mississippi under the auspices of the Baptist church, but neither of these are, in the strictest sense of the word, denominational institutions, both being private property.

The various Baptist Associations of Mississippi, numbering about fifty-six, have held meetings, appointed delegates, and made plans for the representation at the Convention at Gulfport, and practically every Baptist church in the State will be well represented.

The Baptists of the Mississippi coast and their friends will give free entertainment to all regular messengers from Baptist bodies. All delegates are requested to send their names to Rep. W. C. Grace, pastor at Gulfport.

Extensive preparations are under way for the entertainment of this distinguished body as befits the importance of the organization. Mr. W. N. Driver, manager of the Great Southern Hotel, and Chairman of the Convention Committee of the Gulfport Commercial Union, has co-operated with Dr. W. C. Grace, the local pastor, and has been an active power in arranging for the entertainment of the delegates, and with his usual thoroughness has not failed to attend to every detail which could make for the pleasure and comfort of the visitors, and when they arrive, they will find everything in readiness for them.

Before us, even as behind, God is and all is well.—Whittier.

State Fair.

Jackson, Miss.

Since the first of September the writer has visited a number of state and county fairs, both north and south, and so ventures to call attention to several features of the Mississippi State Fair which merit special attention.

The exhibits of the corn clubs and the tomato clubs are more attractively and effectively arranged than at other fairs.

The Agricultural Building contains a variety and value in county. A special exhibit which exceed at least one other state fair which will not be named, and probably more.

The working exhibits of the schools, include practical demonstration as in the case of the I. L. & C., which has not always been seen elsewhere.

The State Health exhibit is by far the best of any the writer has been privileged to examine this fall. It is much larger and more varied than the exhibit shown by the State Board in the same location last year, so that those who climbed the stair last season should not deem that sufficient for this year.

Any public spirited citizen who wishes to keep in touch with the growth and development of education and agricultural resources in the State may well make a special trip to the Fair to see the above. Much thought and labor has been expended upon these exhibits. Scores of boys and girls have put in many a hot hour to produce their part of it. In the case of the State Health exhibit all of the work was done incidentally to the regular routine of the health office, and much was accomplished out of the regular office hours.

Coming direct from the North Carolina State Fair at Raleigh, the writer could not but notice the absence of such a splendid exhibit of fruit as was shown at Raleigh. Probably Mississippi may not hope for an apple show to compete with the Old North State, but surely another year or so should bring a striking display in some lines of fruit.

E. G. Routzahn.

My Desire.

Grant me the ability to do some one thing well.

Give me sympathy for the suffering of others that has been brought to them by their own acts.

Grant that I may have courage for the weak and the friendship of those who demand the best of my nature.

Remove all doubts from me that there will be ultimate peace and happiness.

Let fear of the consequences of a right act be far from me. Let me forget the words expediency, convention, and reward.

Grant me largeness of judgment, and silence for all weakness, especially that of woman.

And give me, each day, my daily work with rest at night under some friendly stars.—Elinor Macartney Lane.

How Do You Hoe?

Say, how do you hoe your row,
young eh?
Say, how do you hoe your row?
Do you hoe fair,
Do you hoe square,
Do you hoe it the best you know?
Do you put the weeds, as you ought to do,
And leave what's worth while there?
The harvest year depends on you;
Are you working on the square?
Are you killing the noxious weeds
young eh?
Are you making it straight and clean?
Are you going straight,
At a hustling gait,
Are you scattering all that's mean?
Do you laugh and sing and whistle
shrill,
And dance a step or two,
As the row you hoe leads up the hill?
The harvest is up to you.

We are in receipt of a very sweet and highly appreciated letter from our dear Sister Riley who was for some time the very efficient editor of the Woman's Page in the Baptist Record, but now holds the position of teacher in English in Blue Mountain College.

The letter is so full of good things and brings the writer so plainly before our mind's eye, and shows so plainly that she has moved into her new home with the same sweet spirit and indefinable energy that she has always shown for the Master's work, that we are sure her friends will enjoy hearing from her; so with her permission we are going to give you a part of her letter.

Our society at Huston is a wide awake earnest band keeping thoroughly up with all the interest of our organized work. Sister E. M. Thornton is a helpful and valued member. I could not attend our associational meeting but understand the showing of our woman's work was good all along the line.

"The Blue Mountain Society feels the loss of Mrs. Kimbrough but are moving steadily along under the able leadership of such women as Mrs. Linnie Ray, and Miss Maggie Buchanan.

"Last week the four societies of Blue Mountain, Ripley, New Macedonia, Union churches, packed a box for one of our missionaries in western Texas. It was a good box, valued at one hundred dollars, and will gladden the hearts of the recipients as it did of those dear women who got it ready.

"There are two Y. W. A.'s organizations here, one in the college, and one in the church of the local girls.

"The meeting of the latter this afternoon brought together thirty fine girls with an interesting program. Miss Nora Lee Ray leads this band.

"A number of mission study classes have just been organized in the college which will increase the already good interest the girls take in missions.

"There have gone out from this school many to our various fields and this brings about the vital touch that gives lively interest. Mrs. Hendon Harris (Florence Powell), Miss Pearl Caldwell and others were loved pupils of this college. We recently had the privilege of a visit from Mr. Eugene Sallee, our China missionary, who spoke to the pupils of the college, the Heights and the public schools. We confidently expect some one or more, from these ranks of these schools to take their places in some mission field at home or abroad.

"As the time for our State Convention draws near, our hearts are eagerly anticipating the sweet reunion with friends we have been separated from for a long year.

"The central committee and officers have outlined much interesting work for consideration, and some important things will be before us.

"It is earnestly hoped that there will be a large representation well distributed over the State.

The fact that the Convention meets at the extreme end of the State may hinder some of our sisters in the far northern section, but the railroads have granted good rates."

The first session of the Woman's meeting will be on the night of the 21st, instant, in the Methodist church, two blocks from the City Hall, where the Convention is to be held.

The First Organ.

Back in the mountains of the South is a rough little county which bears the name of a well-known statesman of the past. Small it is and little known to fame, but possessed of a certain pride and independence.

A young woman, teacher of the district school, and also superintendent of the Sunday School tells the following incident:

Among the other things which had their beginning was the coming of the organ, the first in the neighborhood.

The school gave an exhibition and charged an admission fee, and a small amount was raised. A few people gave small sums. The aggregate of both these sums may have been ten dollars. A wealthy man whose name is forgotten, but which may well be recorded in the Book of Life, heard of the effort, and agreed to make up the difference which was about thirty-five dollars.

And so in a northern city a ceebney organ was bought. It was shipped to the railway station nearest to the county. That station was seventeen miles distant, as the crow flies, about twenty-five "grape-vine miles" as the oxen plodded, and somewhat more if the up and the down of the hills were to be reckoned, and they ought to be.

The school will never forget the Sunday morning when the people assembled to welcome the organ. It did not come. Four mountain preachers shary of innovations, and careful to say no word in advance that could commit them to an indorsement of it, preached their sermons, and stood about with saddle-bags on their arms. The Sunday School had already been held, and dismissed before the preaching service began and still the organ did not come. The wagon had broken down on the rough roads, and although the men had started for it on Friday, expecting it to return

Saturday, it was long afternoon of Sunday, and some of the people were mounted and ready to start home.

Then they heard the creaking of the bark wagon, hauling the great box up the hill. The congregation re-assembled and waited for the box to be unpacked. It didn't take long.

"Now, teacher, which end up shall we set her?" asked the superintendent of the unpacking.

The organ was soon set up and opened. There it stood, with all its white teeth smiling. A reverent hush fell upon the company as the teacher seated herself and began to play.

"Come, children," she said to her pupils, "the organ knows the same songs we sing." And they and the organ sang together, "raise God from Whom All Blessings Flow."

This county now has not a few modern improvements as compared with former times, and one of them is a goodly number of cabinet organs. And the children of the pupils of the little teacher praise God with the voice and with instruments. And now and then some one tells the story of the first organ that ever sang the songs of praise in those hills.

Vacancies at Blue Mountain

Most of the time for several years all our places in Blue Mountain College have been occupied and applicants have had to await vacancies. However, at times that we could have received them, some girls who preferred our school have gone elsewhere upon the supposition that they could not get places here. We have just opened some new rooms and have places for more boarding pupils than ever before, and every place was engaged and held by cash deposit before our session opened. Yet, in a large school like ours, a girl drops out occasionally, and we will be able to receive many new pupils as the session advances. Therefore, girls who prefer our school to others should never arrange to go elsewhere until they have conferred with us direct about the question of room here. At this writing, we have a few vacancies.

If interested in this session or a future session, write for catalogue.

Weak, Cold Spells.

Wilmington, N. C.—Mrs. Cora L. Ritter, of this place, says: "I used to have headaches and blind dizzy spells and weak, cold spells every all over. I had different doctors, but they were unable to tell me what was wrong so I began to take Cardui. I am now all right, in good health, and better than I have been for 10 years. Cardui is a remedy for women, which has been helping sick women for nearly a life time. You can absolutely rely upon it. Other people have done the testing, and you should profit by their experience. Cardui has benefited a million women. Why not yours? Begin taking Cardui today."

The Youth's Companion Is for Everybody.

Of course, if you are too young to read, or are so old you have forgotten how, you may not enjoy the Youth's Companion. This is rather a sweeping statement, however, for most of children love to have the stories and jingles of the Children's Page read to them. There is many a grandfather and grandmother whose eyes are dim, who like nothing better than to sit and listen to The Companion stories and articles. Many a blind person, and even those who in addition can neither see nor hear have been cheered by The Companion its contents having been communicated to them through the fingertips of friends. The reading of The Youth's Companion is a pretty sure cure for all kinds of loneliness. Robinson Crusoe would have been a happier man if he could have had his Companion Thursday as well as the man Friday. Just send for the Prospectus for 1912 and sample copies of the paper.

We think you will agree, when you have read them that no paper gives quite as much of such a high quality as The Companion, and it costs only $1.75 now for the 52 weekly issues. On January 1, 1912 the subscription price will be advanced to $2.00.

The new subscriber receives a gift of The Companion's Calendar for 1912, in ten colors and gold, and all the remaining issues of 1911 free from the time the subscription is received.

DEATHS.

Lily Orrindor.

On the 22nd day of October, at the home of her grandmother, this noble Christian girl fell asleep in Jesus, aged 20 years and 18 days.

She had been a member of the Baptist church for six years, always filling her place well, taking great interest in the song service, and at the time of her decease was organist at Little River church. Her body was laid to rest at Baylis Chapel, in the presence of a large host of relatives and friends.

She will be greatly missed in her church and community. May the Lord bless and comfort the bereaved.

Mrs. M. J. Nelson.

Our beloved sister M. J. Nelson passed into her rest on October 2, 1911. She was one of our most consecrated members. She was one of the charter members of the Coffeeville Baptist church. We shall miss her so much. She was 73 years of age.

The Lord comfort her sorrowing loved ones.

Her pastor,
M. J. Derrick.

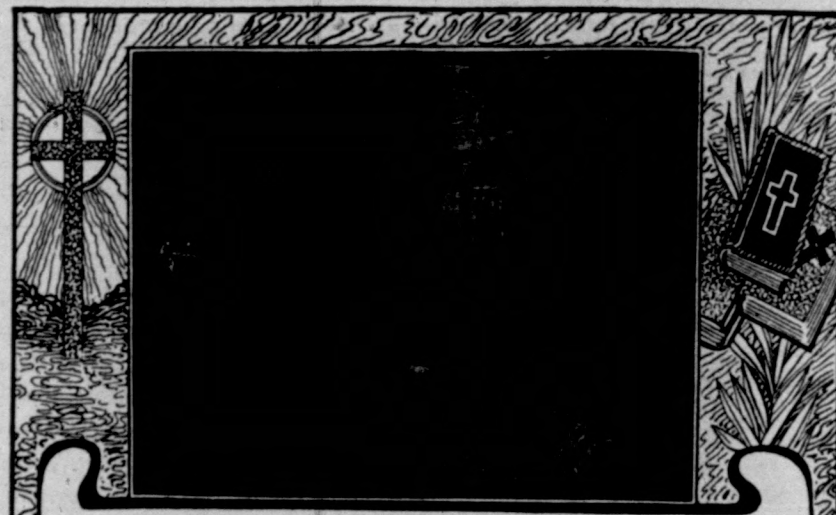

An English Author Wrote:
"No shade, no shine, no fruit, no flowers, no leaves—November!" Many Americans would add no freedom from catarrh, which is so aggravated during this month that it becomes constantly troublesome. There is abundant proof that catarrh is a constitutional disease. It is related to scrofula and consumption, being one of the wasting diseases. Hood's Sarsaparilla has shown that what is capable of eradicating scrofula, completely cures catarrh, and taken in time prevents consumption. We cannot see how any sufferer can put off taking this medicine, in view of the widely published record of its radical and permanent cures. It is undoubtedly America's Greatest Medicine for America's Greatest Disease—Catarrh.

I see the dawn of day,
And with a splendor yet untold
The shadows flee away.

The Eastern sky is lined with gray

Of all the stars, I see but one
To bid the sun adieu.

It is the bright and morning star
That sheds its gentle light

GEORGIA MARBLE

This marble, aside from being superbly beautiful, is remarkable in its strength, and the crystals are so closely interlocked that it prevents the slightest absorption or decay. This makes it the most satisfactory of all monumental material. The stone can be had in any size, shape or shade desired, on short notice, and any marble dealer can supply you. Ask to see samples of "Cherokee," "Creole," "Etowah" and "Kennesaw" Georgia Marble.

The passing of the night.

Thus when we see these scenes of love
They tell us from the sky,
Far swifter than the fleetest dove,
The King of Day is nigh.

And so within life's sphere, my friend,
There is a dawn of day,
When he who seeks his journey's end,
Must start upon the way.

O, days of youth, come back again
They gifts I did not know!
I'd try on earth to be a man
And love to others show.

I'd rise to meet the coming day,
And when the noon-rays come
To shed their brightness on my way
They'd find me nearer Home.

The night is spent; I see the gray
Above the golden light—
O earth, behold the King of Day
Is moving on the night.
Awake! awake! awake! awake!
O saint, and sinner hear!
The dawn! the Dawn! the Dawn!
The Break
Reveals that Christ is near!

Books for the Blind.

Books with raised letters used by the blind are generally very expensive. They have, up to the present time, been of two distinct types—those which were stereotyped, the manufacturing process being so expensive that frequent printing of new books is made almost impossible; those written by hand by some blind person whose good will does not prevent him from making frequent inaccuracies, and who can make but one copy at a time, and that only slowly. M. Earnest Vaughn, the director of the Quinze-Vingts hospital of Paris, has devised a press for printing books for the blind by means of which a text of irreproachable exactness can be obtained, and at a cost much less than that of either the stereotyped or the hand-written books. To place this system on the market, he has founded a society of which the celebrated writer, Anatole France, member of the Academie Francaise, is president. The work of this society is described in a recent number of The Journal of the American Medical Association.

This society proposes to provide the blind workers with books on technical subjects—necessary information in the following of their professions—catalogues, references and all the practical information which will enable them to fill positions commanding salaries as large as those drawn by workers who have the use of their eyesight; to establish free direct libraries where the blind people can find the means of educating or amusing themselves, in the same way that those who can see may do; to publish and sell books and music for the use of the blind, at the most moderate prices; to give advice to any of them, and particularly to the workers, who will find them willing to give any help which they may need—except money aid, which they make it a practice never to give; and lastly, to propagate M. Vaughn's method, or any other similar method for printing books for the blind.

The first effort of the society will expend itself on the printing of technical books, which will be sold at a minimum price, or even furnished gratuitously to the extremely poor persons, as the resources of the society will permit.

This Will Interest Many.

F. W. Parkhurst, the Boston publisher, says that if anyone afflicted with rheumatism in any form, neuralgia or kidney trouble will send their address to him at 701 Carney Bldg., Boston, Mass., he will direct them to a perfect cure. He has nothing to sell or give; only tells you how he was cured after years of search for relief. Hundreds have tested it with success.

After coming in out of the rain let the umbrella down and stand it on the handle, that it may drip in this position. The water will drip from the edges of the frame and the cover dry uniformly.

When placed with the handle upward, as it frequently is, the water runs to the top of the umbrella, and the moisture is there retained in the lining underneath the ring, causing the silk or fabric with which the frame is covered to become tender and soon rot.

Ordinarily the top of an umbrella wears out sooner than any other part of it, and in the majority of cases may be thus accounted for.

Terrible Train of Troubles.

Lake Charles, La.—Mrs. E. Fournier, 516 Kirby street, says: "The month before I took Cardui I could hardly walk. I had backache, headache, pain in my legs, chills, fainting spells, sick stomach, dragging feelings, and no patience or courage. Since taking Cardui I have no more pains, can walk as far as I want to, and feel good all the time." Take Cardui and be benefitted by the peculiar herb ingredients which have been found so effective for womanly ills. Cardui will relieve that backache, headache, and all the misery from which you suffer just as it has done for others. Try Cardui.

An Interesting Point About Murderers.

In the November Woman's Home Companion a contributor raises the following question: "I confess to a little of the same puzzle now when a fellow creature is condemned to death by law, and judiciously slain. There, too, is a great waste. Why should the State kill a man because he has already killed another? Why not let him pay his penalty in imprisonment and work, and why should not the fruits of his labor accrue in part to the support of the murdered man's family, if they are in need?"

HERBS AND FLOWERS CURE CATARRH

A Safe, Simple, Reliable Remedy, Which Costs Nothing to Try.

You need not suffer from catarrh, bronchitis, lingering colds, or other catarrhal troubles. After years of research and experiment, Dr. Blosser discovered a compound of herbs, leaves and flowers which by a unique method is applied to every nook and corner of the mucous membrane in the head, nose, throat and lungs.

Any sufferer, after giving it a trial, can readily see why it is so greatly superior to such ordinary treatments as sprays, ointments, salves, liquid, or tablet medicines, because all these cannot and do not reach all the affected parts, while Dr. Blosser's method reaches every spot; and this explains, at least in part, the wonderful success with which it is meeting. The full size package costs but one dollar. It is harmless, pleasant to use and is easily applied, even by a child.

No matter how deep-seated your catarrh may be, no matter how long it has troubled you; no matter if other remedies have failed; you should give this treatment a trial and it will do for you what it has done for thousands of other sufferers. Write at once to Dr. J. W. Blosser, 204 Walton Street, Atlanta, Ga., in order to receive yourself or his offer of a free trial package of the remedy and an illustrated booklet which gives all the facts about catarrh. It is not necessary to send any money—simply send your name and address.

When Yankees Applied Torch to Jackson 45 Years Ago.

The following account of the burning of the city of Jackson by the Yankee army was written a day or two after the fire by Col. A. J. Frantz, published in his paper, the Brandon Republican, and reproduced in the very excellent trade edition of the Brandon News last week. The reading of the old story will call to mind many familiar names and incidents of that disastrous visitation of forty-five years ago:

We find in an old scrap-book the following interesting story of the Yankee occupation of Jackson, Miss. The story appeared in the Brandon (Miss.) Republican in April, 1863:

"In order to ascertain the amount of damage done by the Yankees during their forty-eight hours' occupation of the city of Jackson, we went over and took a careful survey of the place yesterday morning, and give below the result of our observations. We could not get a complete list of the property burned, and otherwise destroyed, owing to great confusion in the city. The following buildings were burned:

"Green's cotton factory, together with all the machinery, 300 bales of cotton and all the buildings connected with the factory; Phillips' factory, and all the buildings connected therewith; J. A. Stephens' foundry; Bailey's cotton shed, containing a large quantity of lime, tar, cement, etc.; Catholic church and parsonage; Mrs. Blackwell's house and contents; Confederate house, together with furniture, etc.; railroad depot and all of the buildings immediately west and south of the same; State penitentiary, with all the machinery; flouring mill near Phillips' factory; all the houses on State Street from Shaw's store to Graves' corner, including Green's banking house; Ambrozier's grocery; Allen & Ligon's store, and Graves' large brick building with a number of small intervening houses; all the south side of Pearl street from State street to the Mississippi Baptist office, including the Confederate quartermaster's office; a number of sheds or warehouses near the old depot of the Southern railroad, containing an immense quantity of cotton, sugar, molasses, etc., and a number of old cars belonging to both railroads, all the business houses in front of the city hall, and market house, except Mrs. Sanders' boarding-house and one or two small shops; Lemley's hat factory, Robinson's warehouse, General Freeman's dwelling house; all the buildings belonging to the fair grounds, rope factory and saltpetre works; the railroad and city bridges across Pearl river, and all the bridges and trestle work on the Southern Railroad for several miles, and shops where government work was being carried on. All the stores in the city were pillaged, their contents either carried off or thrown into the street, and burned. The Mississippi office was broken into, the type thrown into the streets and the presses and furniture broken up. The postoffice was rifled for its contents. The Governor's Mansion was broken open and pianos and furniture destroyed.

"The Episcopal church was entered and the whole interior defaced. Nearly all the private residences were entered and trunks broken open, fine dressers torn to pieces and all jewelry, silverware and provisions taken. Dr. Knapp's office was broken open, his furniture destroyed. Capt. Julien's book store and bindery were destroyed. J. W. Gray & Co's drug store was partially destroyed. Jo Morgridge was an extensive sufferer by the depredations of the vandals.

"E. Virden's loss in sugar, molasses, etc., is estimated at $200,000. D. W. Busick lost heavily in his tobacco commission store. Allen & Ligon lost all their books, paper money and merchandise. Dr. S. C. Farrar lost his horses and mules. J. W. Rawlins lost his carriage and carriage horses. Almost every horse, mule, cow and hog in the city was taken. Watches and breastpins were forcibly taken from gentlemen on the street. Negroes, from 300 to 500 were taken from the city to adjacent country, and as an inducement for them to go, they were promised commissions in the Yankee army, and about 100 of them were armed before they left the city.

"Intelligent gentlemen estimate the total loss of property in the city at five millions of dollars.

"A portion of the army came over to Rankin and tore up the railroad about four miles, and a few rails at other places to within two miles of Brandon. They ransacked the private dwellings for arms and ammunition, taking away a few negroes, horses and mules. Among the chief sufferers in the raid were Mrs. S. M. Hamilton, 4 negroes; Austin Neely, 13 negroes; G. W. Rains, 2 negroes; General P. Henry, 1 negro, 3 horses, etc.

"It is asserted and believed that in the retreat between Jackson and Clinton, many houses were burned and nearly all the horses, mules and cattle were driven away.

"We could learn no particulars of the fight at Raymond, except that our loss was about 200, and that of the enemy from four to five hundred. It is reported that we whipped the enemy very badly at Edwards depot on Friday and that we captured his immense wagon train. We have no doubt of the truth of the report."

Well-Aired Beds.

In our American hotels and boarding-houses, while the guests are at breakfast the beds they have just left are being made up. Many tidy housekeepers seem to have an idea that to leave the beds unmade for any considerable time is inconsistent with good housekeeping.

In point of fact the proper hygiene of the bed demands that the bed clothing should be exposed to the air, and, if possible, to the sun, for at least one hour after rising, a longer interval being much more desirable. To neglect this hygienic rule is to court headache and that feeling of being more tired than when one went to bed.

Thanksgiving.

In this issue of The Record we send our Thanksgiving greeting to all its readers. We hope to interest them, and through them, all our friends in a special Thanksgiving offering for our Home. November is the month usually given in our church collections for the support of the Orphanage. During this month we usually receive most of our support for the year. The contributions from last Thanksgiving went to pay the debt on the new building. This debt was paid on the 6th day of February. We have not had to go in debt this summer for our living, and hope that our people will remember us when they go to make their Thanksgiving offering at their meetings in November.

We have had many assurances that Sunday Schools, churches, and several day schools are going to make a special effort to help us pay the debt. We are trusting our friends implicitly, and feel confident that all things will come out alright.

This has been a year of epidemics with us. Early in the spring two children came into the Home that had been exposed to diphtheria. In a few days a case had developed in the babies' building and before we knew it the disease was so deeply set that all that our doctors could do could not break the spell and it was soon evident that we must give him up. Two other cases developed, but taking them in time, with the free use of antitoxin, we lost no other. We then administered antitoxin to all who had been exposed, and no other cases developed. Soon after this, measles broke in our home, then whooping cough; after that, mumps, but we have come out alright, and the health of our Home at this time is good.

Assuring our friends, one and all, of our appreciation of their loyalty and timely help, we beg to remain yours in genuine thanksgiving. The Orphanage Gem.

Good News for the Deaf.

A celebrated New York aurist has been selected to demonstrate to deaf people that deafness is a disease and can be treated successfully in your own home. He proposes to prove this fact by sending to any person having trouble with their ears a trial treatment of this new method absolutely free. We advise all people who have trouble with their ears to immediately address Dr. Edward Gardner, Suite No. 180, No. 2 West Thirty-third St., New York City, and we will assure them that they will receive by return mail, absolutely free, a "Trial Treatment."

To the Baptists of Tennessee, Arkansas and Mississippi.

There is no more vital problem before the American people today than the problem of the country church. The country church is dying. On the 13th and 14th of November in the Court Avenue church of Memphis a Conservation Conference is to be held. This conference, while dealing with many subjects—rural schools, farmers' organizations, and agriculture—will deal particularly with the country church. It is to be held under the auspices of the Department of church and country life of the Presbyterian church in co-operation with the local churches of other denominations. Its purpose is to bring together from these three states all rural life workers in one concentrated effort for the betterment of rural life and the reconstruction of the country church. Experts from various parts of the United States will be on the program. But more important than the speakers' contribution from the platform will be the discussion from the floor of the house. Five hundred delegates from country churches are expected. The Baptist churches are specially invited to send delegates, both ministers and laymen, and to co-operate in this attempt to find a solution to the problem of the country church in the South.
